A National Statistics Publication for Scotland

PUPILS IN SCOTLAND, 2007

26th February, 2008

1. Introduction

1.1 This document contains information on pupils in publicly funded schools in Scotland, mainly derived from the latest annual pupil census which took place in September 2007. As well as the tables contained in this document, the pupil characteristics collected in the census can also be matched against attainment, attendance and exclusions information and can further be analysed at smaller geographic areas.

1.2 Tables in this publication are grouped into chapters, firstly at a national level into all sector summary figures (tables 1.1-1.16), then into primary (tables 2.1-2.21), secondary (tables 3.1-3.11) and special (tables 4.1-4.10). Then local authority figures are similarly grouped (tables 5.1-5.10, 6.1-6.16, 7.1-7.14, 8.1-8.13). At the bottom of each table a note will direct you to the equivalent national or local authority table. A map of local authorities is given on page 101 and an index is also provided at the back of the publication.

2. Main Statistics

2.1 In September 2007 there were a total of 692,215 pupils in 2,729 publicly funded schools in Scotland.

2.2 There were 375,946 pupils in 2,168 primary schools, 309,560 pupils in 378 secondary schools and 6,709 pupils in 183 special schools (table 1.1). Pupil numbers have been reducing, in line with a fall in the population. In recent years the proportion of pupils in special schools has been falling slightly, from 1.11 per cent in 2000 to 0.99 per cent in 2006 and 0.97 per cent in 2007.

2.3 The average number of pupils in a primary school was 173, a figure which has fallen each year since peaking in 1997 at 192. About 34 per cent of primaries had fewer than 100 pupils. The average number of pupils in a secondary school was 819. This has remained fairly constant since the steady increase during the nineties. About a third of secondaries had over 1,000 pupils (table 1.2)

2.4 There were 36,510 pupils who were either based in a special schools or had Additional Support Needs in primary or secondary schools (table 1.6). In mainstream schools there were 29,833 pupils (4.4 per cent of all mainstream pupils) with a Coordinated Support Plan (CSP), an Individualised Educational Programme (IEP) and/or with provision levels set by a Record of Needs (RoN) pre-dating the implementation of the Education (Additional Support for Learning) (Scotland) Act 2004. This compares to 29,173 pupils in 2006, a 2.3 per cent increase. Eighty-five per cent of these pupils spent all of their time in mainstream classes (table 1.5).

2.5 During the transition period for the Act, up to November 2007, all pupils who had a RoN were to be re-assessed. It is not possible to say from the data what proportion of pupils had been re-assessed by September 2007. However, while there were 13,157 pupils with a RoN in 2005 and 11,708 in 2006, there were still 7,439 pupils with ongoing provision from a RoN by September 2007. The number of pupils with CSPs had risen from 326 in 2006 to 1,881 in September 2007. (table 1.6).

2.6 During the transition period, information on pupils' needs may be recorded under the old categories (of main difficulty of learning) or new categories (of reason for support). Just over three quarters of pupils with additional support needs have been reported under the new categories. While the two recording systems are not strictly comparable or additive (since reason for support is given for all difficulties, not just the main difficulty) the most prevalent categories are learning disabilities (11.4 pupils per 1,000), specific learning difficulties in language and or mathematics – including dyslexia (10.7 pupils per 1,000) and social emotional and behavioural difficulties (10.3 pupils per 1,000).

2.7 Overall, 70 per cent of pupils with additional support needs were boys, the same proportion as in 2005 and 2006 (table 1.9).

2.8 Of those pupils whose ethnic background was declared, 91.4 per cent were White-UK. The largest other groupings were White-other (1.8 per cent, up from 1.5 per cent), Asian-Pakistani (1.4 per cent, up from 1.3 per cent) and Mixed (0.8 per cent, unchanged). (table 1.11)

2.9 The average class size in primary schools was 23.3 pupils, down from 23.6 in 2006. P1 classes had the smallest average size of single stage classes at 21.1 pupils, down from 22.9 in 2006 (table 2.11). The proportion of pupils in composite classes increased from 25.2 per cent in 2006 to 26.0 per cent (table 2.12).

2.10 In P1 there were 2,291 pupils (five per cent) who were in class sizes of more than 25, down from 17,476 (34 per cent) in 2006 (table 2.14). Twelve per cent of P1-P3 pupils were in class sizes of 18 or less (table 2.17).

2.11 There were 2,601 pupils receiving Gaelic medium education, up from 2,454 in 2006. A further 1,096 were taught Gaelic through the medium of Gaelic, down from 1,206 in 2006. Another 5,049 were taught Gaelic as a learner, down from 5,321 in 2006, though there may be some under-reporting of these figures by some local authorities (table 1.14).

2.12 There were 10,926 pupils assessed or declared as having a disability (table 1.10). There are wide variations in the extent to which pupils with disabilities had been identified in different local authorities and the information should not be considered as complete.

2.13 There were 138 different languages reported as the main home language. The most common after English were Punjabi and Urdu, with Polish moving into third place, followed by Cantonese, Arabic and then French moving above Gaelic. (table 1.15). Polish was the most common main home language after English in 16 authorities, with Punjabi in nine authorities (table 5.8).

2.14 There were 15,411 pupils identified as having English as an additional language and who were not fluent in English. Of these 3,595 were considered “New to English”. This is an increase of 5,925 from the 2006 figure, though some of this is likely to be due to improved implementation of the new reporting procedures. (table 5.9)

BACKGROUND NOTES

1. Sources

1.1 The information in this publication is derived mainly from the Pupil Census from 17th September 2007 and previous years.

2 Coverage and Timing

2.1 The Pupil Census covers all publicly funded schools in Scotland (local authority and grant-aided). Where a school has more than one department, for example a secondary school with a primary department, these are counted as separate schools. The census of independent schools is published separately and will be available on the Scottish Government website.

<http://www.scotland.gov.uk/stats/bulletins/00647>

2.2 Schools which provide education predominantly for children with special educational needs often have pupils from a wide age range and the data collected from this sector reflects this. Where pupils attend a 'special unit' attached to a mainstream school, they are usually included in the figures for the mainstream school. Some schools and local authorities have reported pupils from 'special units' separately.

2.3 Pupils who are withdrawn from school, for example, because of long-term illness, are not included in the school census returns. Information on such pupils is provided by local authorities in the annual survey of children educated outwith school, results of which are available on the Scottish Government website

<http://www.scotland.gov.uk/stats/bulletins/00621>

In 2006/07, 1,875 children were reported by local authorities to have received education outwith school at some point during the year.

2.4 From 2003 a separate staff census has taken place. Results of this will be published in "Teachers in Scotland, 2007" and will be available on the Scottish Government website.

<http://www.scotland.gov.uk/Topics/Statistics/Browse/School-Education/PubTeacherCensus>

3 Census content

3.1 The content of the Pupil Census is considered each year in consultation with the Data Exchange in Education and Children Services Group (DEECS). This group includes representatives from local authorities, teaching unions and headteachers associations, as well as staff from the Scottish Government. The committee operates in the light of National Statistics guidelines, which restricts the department to collecting only the information that is required, at a level which is fit for purpose, whilst always trying to minimise the burden on data providers. Recommendations for changes to the census are made to DEECS through the Scottish Exchange of Educational Data (ScotXed) network.

4 Collection methods

4.1 The information required to complete the September 2007 Pupil Census was collected electronically, through local authorities, from all publicly funded primary, secondary and special schools, as part of the ScotXed programme. The information is stored on schools' management information systems, thus reducing the burden on schools.

4.2 ScotXed supports and promotes effective and secure data exchanges so that key partners in school education in Scotland can benefit from access to information to monitor and improve education services. Partners include local authorities, schools, the Scottish Qualifications Agency, HM Inspectorate of Education, Learning and Teaching Scotland and Scottish Government Education Directorate. Further information, including specifications of the data exchanges, can be found at www.scotxed.net.

5. Definitions and Data Quality

5.1 Tables in this publication cover publicly funded schools only, i.e. local authority and grant-aided. Information on independent schools will be available on the Scottish Government website <http://www.scotland.gov.uk/Topics/Statistics/Browse/School-Education/PubIndSchoolCensus>

5.2 Where numbers of pupils are given, these relate to pupils based at the school. Pupils who are attending the school but are based at another centre (for example, students from a Further Education College who are taking some classes at a school) are not included.

5.3 A class is a group of pupils normally supervised by one teacher. The group may sometimes be supervised by more than one teacher, for example, when pupils are receiving learning support from a teacher who is not the class teacher. Only pupils on the school roll have been included in the figures in order to avoid double counting of pupils.

5.4 Maximum class sizes in primary schools are as follows:

- 30 for single stage class P1-P3 (with 25 set as a norm for P1)
- 33 for single stage class P4-P7
- 25 for composite stage class

5.5 A composite class is a class of pupils from two or more stages.

5.6 The ethnic background and national identity categories were based generally on those collected in the 2001 population census and were agreed following consultation. Pupils and parents were given the option of not disclosing their ethnicity and in such cases pupils were not attributed a category. Over 97.5 per cent of pupils disclosed their ethnic background, up from around 97 per cent in previous years.

5.7 There would appear to be inconsistency between schools and between local authorities in the reporting of special schools as separate identities, as well as changes over the past years. We therefore advise caution when comparing results with previous years and across local authorities.

A few authorities do not have special schools and may fund places in neighbouring authorities for their pupils. The number of special schools includes 34 where there were no pupils based, but which received pupils based in other schools.

5.8 At September 2007 there was one grant-aided mainstream school, with primary and secondary departments, and seven grant-aided special schools.

These schools are included in national totals, but are identified separately in the local authority level tables. In publications prior to 2003 they were included within the local authority of their location.

5.9 Free school meal data collected in the Pupil Census only counts those pupils who are registered for free school meals at the time of the census. More complete information is collected in the February School Meals Survey. The figures collected in the annual School Meals Survey are currently used in funding calculations and in benchmarking schools. Information from the Pupil Census is used only where linkage to other pupil characteristics, or attainment, exclusions and attendance data is necessary. This year the Pupil Census information on registrations appears particularly incomplete and should only be used with caution.

5.10 Education authorities must have arrangements in place to identify pupils with additional support needs who require a Co-ordinated Support Plan and the particular additional support needs of the pupils so identified. The statutory criteria and content for a Co-ordinated Support Plan can be found in the supporting children's learning code of practice at:

<http://www.ltscotland.org.uk/inclusiveeducation/additionalsupportforlearning/index.asp>

5.11 For those pupils who had a Record of Needs immediately prior to the commencement of the Education (Additional Support for Learning) (Scotland) Act 2004, on 14 November 2005, the education authorities were, within 2 years (November 2007), to establish whether or not such pupils required a co-ordinated support plan. The provision being made for the recorded pupil is preserved as a minimum level of support unless there is a significant change in the individual's additional support needs or until the date that it is established that they require a plan, or if they do not require a plan, 2 years from the date that that is established. Such pupils are referred to in this publication under the heading "with RoN".

5.12 Individualised Educational Programmes (IEPs) are written plans setting targets that a child, with special educational needs, is expected to achieve. Targets should be limited in number and focus on key priorities of learning. They should be simple, clearly expressed and measurable.

5.13 Pupils may have an IEP with another record of support needs but they cannot have both a CSP and an RoN. Pupils with any combination of support needs are categorised in this publication as having Additional Support Needs.

5.14 Pupil census figures on children looked after by the local authority appear to be incomplete when compared with similar data from social work departments. They are published this year alongside the social work figures, as at 31st March 2007, for comparison.

5.15 The urban/rural classifications in Table 1.3 are defined as in the Scottish Household Survey, <http://www.scotland.gov.uk/Publications/2003/08/17898/24432>.

5.16 For the purposes of this report denominational schools have been restricted to those schools where a specific denomination is named. Multi- and inter-denominational schools have therefore been grouped with non-denominational schools.

5.17 In order to assist in monitoring the Disability Discrimination Act, information has started to be collected on the number of pupils having a disability and the need for physical, curriculum or communication adaptation. These figures are published in tables 1.10, 2.9, 3.9, 4.8 and 8.10.

5.18 Data for 2006 on Gaelic medium education and Gaelic learners has been revised since its original publication.

6. Rounding

6.1 All percentages are rounded separately and breakdowns may consequently not sum to 100 per cent.

7. Disclosive data

7.1 Numbers less than five are generally deemed to be disclosive and hence not published. Where figures have been removed they are replaced by *. Other figures in the table may also be removed to stop a disclosive figure from being calculated from the total. However, in some cases where there are a large number of pupils in the unknown category, i.e. ethnic background and national identity, there often exists a large enough amount of uncertainty for figures to be published.

7.2 Occasionally, as in data for grant aided schools, it has been preferable to swap a small number of data rather than removing figures elsewhere in the publication. Swapped data has still usually been marked as *.

8. Other data

8.1 Some further data, for example some school level data, will be made available on the Scottish Government website www.scotland.gov.uk/schoolstats. Ad-hoc tables are available on request.

8.2 Analysis on a more local level will also be available via the Neighbourhood Statistics website - <http://www.sns.gov.uk>.

9. Symbols

9.1 The following symbols are used:

- .. = not available
- = nil or rounds to nil
- # = not applicable
- * = disclosive data

10. General

10.1 This is a National Statistics publication. National Statistics are produced to high professional standards set out in the National Statistics Code of Practice. They undergo regular quality assurance reviews to ensure that they meet customer needs. They are produced free from any political interference.

(1) The S5 stage staying-on rates are based on S3 pupils 2 years earlier and S6 rates on S3 pupils 3 years earlier.

Post Christmas staying-on rates are calculated as a percentage of the post Christmas S5 roll divided by the S3 roll 2 years earlier. The post Christmas roll in S5 is calculated by subtracting the number of first term leavers in S5 from the September S5 roll.

1996-98 stage roll data used to calculate staying-on rates excludes pupils in special units. 1999-07 stage roll data used to calculate staying-on rates includes pupils in special units.

(1) The data here refer to the number of pupils in each local authority's schools, by the SIMD of where they live, irrespective of which local authority they live in. SIMD data is not available for 5,464 pupils or for the 334 pupils in grant aided special schools. Data has been adjusted slightly for disclosure purposes. The categories refer to deciles. (1) The S5 stage staying-on rates are based on S3 pupils 2 years earlier and S6 rates on S3 pupils 3 years earlier. Where significant numbers of pupils are taken on in S5 this can result in staying-on rates of over 100%.

1999-2007 stage roll data used to calculate staying-on rates includes pupils in special units. National averages have been calculated from the figures for all available local authority and grant-aided schools. Data for Jordanhill is included in the Scotland figure but not in Glasgow City.

SCOTTISH GOVERNMENT STATISTICIAN GROUP

OUR AIM

To provide relevant and reliable information, analysis and advice that meet the needs of government, business and the people of Scotland.

OBJECTIVES

1. To produce statistics and analysis relevant to user needs by
 - Developing our understanding of customer requirements to ensure statistics are kept relevant and analysis is well targeted;
 - Developing the range of statistics and analysis we produce;
 - Where practicable improving timeliness;
 - Providing more statistics disaggregated by age, gender and ethnicity;
 - Developing more data for small areas through the Neighbourhood Statistics project;
 - Contributing to production of comparable statistics across the UK and internationally.
2. To ensure effective use of our statistics by
 - Contributing more directly to policy processes inside and where possible outside government;
 - Improving access to and presentation of data and analysis;
 - Improving the advice provided on statistics.
3. To work effectively with users and providers by
 - Maintaining arrangements to consult and involve users and providers;
 - Involving users and providers in planning developments in outputs and processes;
 - Minimising the burden on data providers through dropping or streamlining collections as appropriate, to ensure the benefits of the information justify the costs of collection.
4. To develop the quality of statistics by
 - Assuring and improving quality as an integral part of data collection and analysis and through regular reviews in line with National Statistics quality strategy;
 - Developing statistical methods, systems and classifications;
 - Working with the rest of the Government Statistical Service to develop joint approaches/solutions where appropriate.
5. To assure the integrity of statistics by
 - Maintaining and promoting integrity through implementation of the National Statistics Code of Practice and related protocols;
 - Safeguarding the confidentiality of data subjects.
6. To ensure the efficient and effective delivery of statistics products and services by
 - Making best use of all sources including administrative sources;
 - Working with other analysts to maximise the contribution of our own and other analysts' work;
 - Ensuring value for money;
 - Making best use of Information and Communications Technology;
 - Ensuring effective communication within the Statistician Group.
7. To develop our workforce and competences
 - Ensuring recruitment of staff with the necessary skills and potential;
 - Ensuring development of expertise amongst existing staff;
 - Promoting and upholding the standards of the statistics profession.

This is a National Statistics publication

"This is a National Statistics publication. It has been produced to high professional standards set out in the National Statistics Code of Practice Protocol - see www.statistics.gov.uk/about_ns/cop/default.asp

These statistics undergo regular quality assurance reviews to ensure that they meet customer needs. They are produced free from any political interference."

Details of pre-release access will be provided in the Scottish Government Statistics Website under 'Forthcoming Publications'
