The following observations are made on behalf of Friends of the Ochils, a small, local charity recognised by the Inland Revenue, concerned with landscape and environmental protection of the Ochil Hills.

The response can be made publicly available and we may be contacted again if you so wish.

- 1 We recognise the need for improvement in charity law and regulation in Scotland.
- 2 As a small charity we very much welcome the commitment to proportionality.
- 3 We are content with the proposals as they stand and have no specific comments.
- 4 Much of the detail will come through regulations and secondary legislation. We note the commitment to consult on these and would wish to be part of the that process.
